

Hello. Welcome to Data Explorer.

Are you interested in understanding or telling a story through data? Do you want to quickly analyze your data set? Or maybe you just want to explore out of curiosity?

With Data Explorer, you can examine data, generate graphs, and do statistical analyses without having to install anything. Just select what you want to do, set up the variables, and get right to it.

You can start exploring by choosing a data set from published research or by uploading your own data set in the CSV format. Want to do more later or share with a friend? Save your project whenever you want so that you can reopen and continue on any device.

Ready to have some fun learning from data? Check out Data Explorer now.
